Subject: Change in Child Support Payments

I beg the Court not the change the laws to what is proposed. I am a single mother, whose did not receive support from my ex-husband for nine years of my son's life. He is now back in the picture, and believes because he is now providing a small amount of weekly support (which does not address the basic education, latchkey and food needs) he has demanded that my son be at his beck and call at all times. He has been deemed an habitual criminal and we are being forced to submit to his demands because of the connection between child support and visitation.

I have never provided this information to anyone before, but because the change is wrong, I needed to finally say something on behalf of those who have suffered. You are providing power to those with money to buy it.

I beg the Court's consideration of all involved.
